The Cancer Support Community of Philadelphia, in partnership with Penn Medicine's Abramson Cancer Center, presents this wonderful symposium which is designed to bring the joy of laughter to those living with cancer and their family and friends. The program will provide a laughter-fueled, learning-filled look at how humor can enrich life and how to tap the positive power of humor in inviting more humor, heart, hope, and happiness in life while living with cancer.*

Speakers include:

- ☺ Michael Pritchard, a beloved and respected public speaker on humor featured in Time magazine and profiled on CNN, CBS Sunday Morning, The Today Show and The Tonight Show
- ☺ Joel Goodman, Ed.D., founder of The HUMOR Project, author of 8 books, and recipient of the International Lifetime of Laughter Achievement Award
- ☺ Margie Ingram, M.A., Ed. Spec., popular speaker, life coach, pioneer in stress management and HUMOResilience
- ☺ Leslie Gibson, R.N., a cancer survivor herself and creator of innovative and acclaimed therapeutic hospital humor programs
